The Ultimate Finish

Supremo™ quartz surfaces are not only beautiful to look at and unique in design, but also superior in durability. Non porous, safe and hygienic, they are also easy to care for – there's no need to seal, polish or wax - all that's needed is a mild cleaning detergent and surfaces will maintain their long lasting luster.

Exceptional Designs, Superb Quality

Each Supremo™ is individual in appearance but uniform in terms of its high level of quality, safety and environmental standards. All our slabs are individually inspected to ensure they meet the highest of international quality standards. Caesarstone is also fully committed to safeguarding the environment - we were the first quartz manufacturer to achieve the ISO 14001 international standard for environmental management and performance. We are also fully ISO 9001:2000 compliant.

Our products meet the American Greenguard exacting standards, and we are proud to be credited by the NSF (National Sanitation Foundation) for having surfaces safe enough for use in laboratories, healthcare facilities and food preparation environments.
